ing; Thomas Sullivan, suit drink
dishonest and poolroom; Mar-
Brown, barber shop and ice
store.

Three dwelling houses owned by Kelly and two owned by Thoma-sullivan were also destroyed. Mrs.
Sullivan escaped death by a narrow margin by getting out of Mrs.
Sullivan's lodging house in her clothes. Mrs. Carpenter was killed by volunteer firemen, as was also Powers, who was ill. In save-Fowers Hanson de Nuechi was
y turned about one eye, and
shall Brown suffered painful injury of one foot.

FEARS FIREMEN
Charles King, another of the volunteer fire fighters, took an active part in fighting the flames. The all vision of his fire helmet was
ed. King's home was saved, but wireless plant, nearby, was destroyed. Charles Hecover, head of Northwestern Pacific emergency
firemen, had charge of the volunteer fire fighters.

It was said today that the fire
fighters were greatly handicapped
because the fire trucks had been
in the city for some time and had a lack of funds for their upkeep.

it in another room, where he
about $1000 worth of jewelry $25 in cash.

PERPETRATOR OF FAKE STORY IS OUT ON PAROLE

Robert J. Koch, 21-year-old "fake millionaire" and night burglar, was granted five years' probation by Superior Judge L. S. Church today and was sent to his folks in New Jersey.
Koch, who represented that he would become heir to a fortune if he could save $5000 in a certain period,
was caught in his room after he
robbed Ballard & Anderson's store
here. He pleaded guilty and the probation officer recommended probation, stating that this was the youth's first offense.
Koch was held in jail until his parents sent him transportation to New Jersey.

PAVING STONE FOR RHEUMATISM? COP DOUBTS IT

SAN FRANCISCO, APRIL 4.—
Policeman Walter Savage was trying doors along Pine street early
this morning when there suddenly loomed one Jess Beatty, who had a suspicious package in his hand. The patrolman investigated
and found a carefully wrapped
cobblestone of goodly proportions.
Visions of a shattered windowpane
and a quick grabbing of the contents of some showstore loomed up
before the officer and he decided to take Beatty into custody.
"You can't do that," said Beatty.
"I mean no harm with the brick.
Some people carry copper in their
shoes and I'm stone in the hand
to cure rheumatism."
Savage decided to lock Beatty
up on general principles and he
was booked as a $1000 vagrant.

More Bodies Endorse Charter Amendment

Organizations of Oakland continue
to adopt resolutions endorsing the proposed municipal charter amendment to be voted on April 19, broadening the scope of the recreation department. The problem of leisure time of the city's adult is making a universal appeal. Under the present
interpretation of the charter the field of the playground directors is limited to school children. The amendment seeks without additional tax burden to legalize the work for adults, industrial workers, and community pageants and making possible
the establishment of summer and vacation camps. Unless adopted, the May day celebrations, Christmas
pageants and holiday fetes will be eliminated. If the citizens vote the amendment the acreage in the Tuilume National Park may be accepted by the city without cost for the founding of a summer camp.

Among the organizations which
have most recently endorsed the proposed amendment are:
Public Welfare League, Professional and Business Women's Club,
The Ladies of Astor Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Bella Vista Parent-Teacher association, Brock-
hurst Improvement association, Victory Union of the W. C. T. U., Big Sisters of Oakland, Parent-Teacher
association of Washington school.

Assemblyman Held For Health Inquiry

BY UNITED PRESS.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SACRAMENTO, April 4.—Assemblyman George W. Warren of San Francisco is being held in the city
jail here today for an investigation
by the city health department.
Warren was arrested early Sunday morning and lodged in the city
jail for "safe-keeping."
Charges that Warren was beating
his wife, cursing loudly and had been drinking heavily, were made by Policemen Embanks and Kramer, who arrested the assemblyman at Seventh
and T streets.
Police said they placed no charges
against Warren because of the state
law which provides that no legislator
can be arrested for a misdemeanor
while the legislature is in session.
From Sunday morning until today
Warren was held in the city jail for "safe-keeping."
This morning Dr. W. Hanna, city
health officer, phoned Warren in quarantine and ordered police to hold him.

BRODERICK GETS HOME FROM EAST

Dr. H. G. Broderick, director of hospitals for Alameda county, has returned from a several weeks' trip
to Chicago, New York and Boston,
where he conferred with officials of the Rockefeller foundation regarding
plans for promoting hospital efficiency in America.
Dr. Broderick was requested to attend the conference to give advice
regarding the training of men to be placed at the head of the big modern hospitals. He advocated the spending of a year or so in collecting data bearing on the matter and
then establishing a school in connection with a hospital which meets
the standard of requirements.
Asked whether he had been offered
any positions while in the East, Dr.
Broderick smiled quizzically and
said:
"Officially, no. I am still here and shall remain here."

Law Proposed To Cover All Vehicles

Police Chief Fenton C. Thompson
today discovered that traffic laws
for horse-drawn vehicles do not apply to automobiles and has asked
City Attorney Hagan to draw up
an ordinance which will bring to an end the discrimination. The failure of the law covering horse-drawn vehicles to affect motor cars was discovered when the police attempted
to put an end to all-night street
parking of automobiles without lights.
Under the proposed law the owners of all vehicles left at night in the streets will be liable to prosecution.

$4500 TELEGRAM SUIT SUSTAINED

J. A. Cizek of 5767 Shafter avenue, Oakland, may be awarded a judgment for $4500 against the Western Union Telegraph Company
as the result of a decision by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals today in which it is declared
that that corporation is liable in certain instances to greater damages
than the $50 assumed by it on a contract occupying the reverse side
of its telegraph blanks. The decision is considered important as establishing a precedent regarding the
prompt and efficient delivery of telegraphic communication.
The failure to deliver such a message to Cizek November 30, 1917,
resulted in the loss to him of the $4500, represented by 50 shares in the Idaho National Bank. On that day a friend in Boise wired him that he could sell the stock for $90. He never received the message, although affirming in his testimony
that he would have been glad to sell
it for that amount. The purchaser
was equally anxious, and the matter
involved the consolidation of two banks.
Later the Idaho National Bank
was forced into liquidation and Cizek found his stock worthless.
The evidence showed that the message was never transmitted from Boise, although the telegraph office
had told the sender that it had been sent and duly received by Cizek.
Later the company admitted its non-
transmission, and tendered a return of the fee charge. It held, however,
that it was liable only in the amount of $50. The district court took the same view and decided in favor of the company.
Today the circuit court reversed
that decision. It held that the $50
liability must stand as far as the negligence of a messenger boy or
some chance mishap was concerned,
but that in this instance, the message never having been sent and
showing on its face the importance
to the recipient, showed gross negligence on the part of the company.
Cizek will have a new trial of his action.

PROPOSES TO ASSUME ALLIED DEBTS TO U. S.

Simons then makes the proposal
that Germany assume the great allied debts of $10,000,000,000 to the United States.

"Germany would not be unwilling
to assume the obligation of the interest and the amortization of the foreign debt of the allied and associated powers, within the limit of her capacity should this measure be entertained by the allied and associated governments and their creditors."

"Germany stands ready to meet
any proposal which appears feasible
for the solution of the economic and financial problems of Europe and
would invite the examination by unbiased experts of its own ability to make payment. It is the opinion of Germany that the heavy weight of debt now borne by all the states
which were participants in the world
war and the damages which were
wrought in the course of that war,
can not be laid upon the shoulders
of any single people."

"Germany believes also that a policy of duress and coercion will not bring about the reconstruction of international economic life and that
only by way of peaceful discussion
and understanding can such reconstruction be obtained. The German government considers it important
to give, with solemn emphasis, the assurance that for its part it is honestly willing to follow the path which
it has suggested."

Oakland Man's Fall On Street Is Fatal

From injuries sustained when he slipped and fell on the street in Oakland late Saturday afternoon,
Alexander G. Gabelow, 1021 Fifty-fourth street, died at the Roosevelt
hospital in Berkeley here early
day. Gabelow's death, according to the coroner, resulted from a basic fracture of the skull.
Gabelow slipped and fell while walking on Washington street, between Tenth and Eleventh streets, Saturday afternoon, and was taken to the Oakland emergency hospital. He was later removed to the Roosevelt
hospital where he died.

Despondent Woman Attempts Suicide

Despondency is given today by the Oakland police as the cause of an attempt to commit suicide by Miss Agnes Welch, 22 years old, yesterday at the home of relatives, 1217
Eighty street, by drinking poison.
According to the Oakland police, the girl came here from Texas four months ago, and underwent an operation which left her a permanent invalid. Miss Welch was attended by Dr. S. F. Berry, who says she will recover.

MAN MISTAKEN FOR BURGLAR IS SHOT TO DEATH

San Bruno Park Resident Is Thought To Have Entered
Wrong House in Error.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Frank MacDonald, a teamster, was shot and killed last night in San Bruno Park by a neighbor, Augustus Qulla, a steelworker, into whose yard MacDonald had wandered. Qulla mistook MacDonald for a burglar.

He told the police that MacDonald awoke him at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by rapping at the windows and doors. He says he ordered him away but that the intruder made no reply but began kicking the back door violently. When MacDonald started knocking on a rear window, Qulla, convinced that he was a burglar who was trying to force an entrance, seized a rifle and going into the yard fired the gun. He said he did this merely to frighten the man.

MacDonald fell, wounded in the left side. Neighbors were summoned and MacDonald was taken to the South San Francisco hospital where he died within two hours. Qulla lives at 2 Mason street and MacDonald's home was at 2 Easton avenue, one block away. It is thought that MacDonald went to Qulla's place by mistake, thinking it was his own.

Qulla is under arrest charged with manslaughter. MacDonald, who was 50 years of age, is survived by his wife and three small children.

Stephens Endorses Irish Relief Drive

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Governor Stephens in a telegram received here today endorsed the campaign to raise funds for the relief of Ireland's stricken women and children which begins tomorrow. The telegram sent by Richard M. Tohn, chairman of the American committee for relief in Ireland, which is financing the relief measures of the Quakers now in Ireland, follows:

"I am glad to add to President Harding's appeal a word to the people of California on behalf of the women and children of Ireland, whose distress has become so acute. California never has been remiss in the hour of need and notwithstanding the heavy burden that suffering humanity in Europe already has imposed, there will, I know, be no abatement of responsiveness to further calls for help. I join in commending you and your associates in your worthy work."

The northern section of California is to raise $150,000 for the American national fund, fixed at $10,400,000.

BODY OF WOMAN, GOVERNOR WRECK VICTIM, IS FOUND

Quartermaster Tells Board of Inquiry of Events Preceding Collision.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 4.—Removal of the body of the woman, the finding of the body of Mrs. W. W. Washburn Jr. and a statement made by Quartermaster William Lane of the West Hartland, were outstanding highlights in the aftermath of the sea disaster here today.

Lane was at the helm of the West Hartland when she rammed and sank the Governor early last Friday morning. He said that although the steering gear of the West Hartland was "very unreliable," that that fact had nothing to do with the disaster.

He said Captain Alvan was on the bridge. The Governor was clearly sighted and when about six lengths away, or about 2000 feet, Captain Alvan said, "I wonder what that fellow intends to do?" Alvan, according to Lane, then went back to the bridge and sounded one whistle, indicating the West Hartland would continue on her course and cross the bows of the Governor. Immediately the Governor sounded three whistles, a signal meaning she was going astern.

Shortly afterward the West Hartland engines were turning full speed astern, but the vessel's momentum was so great that it carried her into the side of the liner. Immediately, said Lane, the Hartland was sent full speed ahead in an effort to keep her prow in the gap cut in the Governor's side and thus prevent water rushing in.

The body of Mrs. Washburn was found on the beach early yesterday morning by a Miss Lane, booked to sail from San Francisco, actually took passage. Her name was not on the passenger list, but survivors are reported to have said they talked to a Miss Lane aboard the vessel.

Captain H. H. Marden, pilot of the Governor, who said he mistook the West Hartland's lights for shore lights, was on the stand when the wreck inquiry resumed this morning before United States Inspectors Lord and James.

Efforts were being made to locate the wreck that it may be charted and otherwise marked. It was in such position as to be a hazard. There is little or no likelihood that the vessel can be salvaged, according to shipping men.

Inspectors Lord and James said this morning they hoped to conclude their probe by tonight, but that their report, fixing blame, will not be ready before the end of the week.

City Hall Park May Be Made Garden of Dahlias

ARRANGEMENTS are being made by Mayor Davis and members of the Board of Park Directors to make the City Hall Plaza bloom in the near future with a stupendous collection of pampered, petted, pedigreed dahlias of the sort grown by Dr. Michaels for exhibition purposes. These dahlias, it is asserted, are the sort which have aroused nation-wide fame and walk away with prizes wherever there is a flower show.

"We hope we can arrange with Dr. Michaels for a big collection of these splendid blooms," says Mayor Davis. "The first flower bed at the City Hall Plaza, where tulips now bloom, has been such a success that we must keep the tract colorful with flowers hereafter. It is the most prominent park in the city. It must be kept attractive."

Mayor Davis says he expects success in the negotiations with Dr. Michaels for the dahlias and a mammoth natural flower display will be the result.

But this is not all. Whether there be dahlias or not, the city's gardeners are now propagating several thousand rose plants in the municipal hot-houses, and splendid varieties will soon be placed where they are sure to make the vicinity of the City Hall more fragrant.

After the tulips, and previous to the roses and dahlias, the park department will fill in with pansies and snapdragons. The real flower show, it is prophesied, will be ready in late May or early June.

Wife of Insurance Company Head Robbed in Hotel Revolving Door.
SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Search is being made by the police today for a young man believed to be responsible for the theft of $10,000 worth of jewels from Mrs. H. J. Saunders at the Cliff Hotel yesterday.

Mrs. Saunders is the wife of President H. J. Saunders of the Western States Life Insurance Company. They make their home in the Cliff hotel.

While leaving the hotel through the revolving door, Mrs. Saunders was justly by a man who was standing in the lobby. There was not room for the two of them in the compartment of the door and the man returned to the lobby, where he sat down. Mrs. Saunders and her husband, accompanied by former Superior Judge George A. Crothers, left the hotel and went for a ride in Judge Crothers' automobile.

About a quarter of an hour later, Mrs. Saunders missed her jewels, which she had been carrying in a silk bag on her wrist.

On returning to the hotel the party found that the man who had just left had disappeared. He is described as a young man, about 25 years of age, of medium build, well dressed. The jewels consisted of a diamond solitaire ring valued at $6000, two other diamond rings and several articles of less valuable jewelry.

KIDDIE KOASTER OPENED AT S. F. PARK ON SUNDAY
SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—All aboard the Kiddie Koaster! The boys and girls who visit Golden Gate park will now be able to coast to their hearts' content without fear of colliding with automobiles or street cars, for a runway has just been completed expressly for roller coasters.

It was officially opened yesterday with a talk by Edward H. Rainey, secretary to Mayor Rolph, in which the mayor's secretary paid a tribute to Herbert Fleischacker, who presented the coaster runway to the kiddies through his son Alvin.

The runway is 600 feet long and has a 3 per cent grade. A dozen raily colored kiddie kars travel down the incline and when they finish their trip they are automatically put back into place. The coaster is located just back of the recently completed merry-go-round. It requires two months of work to complete it.

Athletics Dropped At S. C. University
SAN JOSE, April 4.—James O'Connor, graduate manager at Santa Clara university, announced this morning that the university has indefinitely discontinued all athletics.

The announcement came without a moment's notice. It was said to be merely a change in the policy of the university as sponsored by Rev. Father Timothy L. Murphy, president of the university. Murphy refused also to comment on the ruling. Father Murphy is out of town for a few days.

It is not believed that the discontinuance will be permanent. It is thought that athletics will be resumed by the institution in the course of a year.

FIRST CHRISTIAN
"Jesus or Barabbas, Which?" was the subject of a sermon given yesterday by Rev. H. A. Van Winkle, the pastor, in the First Christian church last night. The sermon dealt with the interpretation of the famous Bible incident, according to modern conception. He said:

"Barabbas was guilty of two crimes: murder and insurrection. Jesus was the very opposite. He was a peaceful man. Barabbas lived off of the people and Jesus fed them. Notwithstanding this fact the people asked for Barabbas to be released and Jesus crucified. The people who asked this were not robbers, but among the most highly cultured people of that date.

"The cause at the bottom of it was politics. When two men are before the public today, one of them representing the interests of Barabbas and the other the interests of Christianity, the people will vote for Barabbas. Barabbas is very often released, while the spirit of Christ is crucified.

"The man who persuaded the people to do these acts were men who were jealous of his position and entertained fears of a decline in popularity if Jesus should become a man of authority. They knew that Barabbas would work for them, but they knew that Jesus would never do that. Jesus would never become a politician. In our politics today we should get away from the old theory of fearing the men who stand for the right. We should release in Oakland the spirit of Christianity and should crucify Barabbas."

LEADING AUTHORITIES NOW SHOW JUST WHAT TANALAC REALLY IS
Tanlac, which is of value in treating what is commonly known as "indigestion," is the following expression: "It is highly esteemed in loss of appetite during convalescence from acute diseases."

There are certain other elements in Tanlac which, because of their influence upon the appetite, digestion, assimilation and elimination, improve the nutrition and vital activity of the tissues and more important organs of the body and thereby this state of general tonic which is called health.

The United States Dispensary makes the following comment regarding the medicinal value of Tanlac: "It is used in all cases of pure debility of the digestive organs or where a general tonic impression is required. Dyspepsia, atonic gout, hysteria and intermission fever are among the various affections in which it has proven useful."

There are certain other ingredients described in the Dispensary and in other standard medical text books as having a beneficial effect upon the organs of secretion, whose proper functioning results in the purification of the blood streams passing through them. In this manner objectionable and poisonous ingredients of the blood are removed and the entire system invigorated and vitalized.

Tanlac was designed primarily for the correction of disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. At the same time, however, it is a powerful reconstructive tonic and body builder, for it naturally follows that any medicine that brings about proper assimilation of food and the thorough elimination of the waste products must, therefore, have a far-reaching and most beneficial effect upon the entire system.

Although Tanlac's claims for supremacy are abundantly supported by the world's leading authorities, it is the people themselves who have really made Tanlac what it is. Millions upon millions have used it with gratifying results, and have told other millions what it has done for them. That is why Tanlac has become the real sensation of the drug trade in this country and Canada, and that it is also being sold in the largest quantities of any medicine of its kind in the world today.

Flying Columns of Irish Army Destroying Roads

DUBLIN, April 4.—(By The Associated Press)—Flying columns of the Irish Republican army are officially reported operating in Fermanagh, Aramagh, Tyrone, Kildare and Queens Queens counties. There has been much destruction of roads and in many cases intimidation has been resorted to. A fight occurred last night in the hills near Dundrum, four miles south of Dublin.

Crown forces had proceeded to the hills in Lorries to investigate reports of firing. They found twenty armed men, some of whom, after firing at the military, mingled with women and children who were fleeing, for which reason the crown forces refrained from using their machine guns.

They pursued the others, however, who were escaping to another hill and shot two. The remainder set fire to the shrubbery hillside and escaped in the smoke screen.

BELFAST, April 4.—(By Associated Press)—Belfast this morning had its first experience of bomb-throwing, when two bombs were hurled at men guarding the Blair City, which General Bainbridge, in command of the troops in Ulster, is a frequent visitor. Only one of the bombs exploded.

BOYS ALLEGED AUTO THIEVES
SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Two boys were captured after a chase and the firing of numerous revolver shots at O'Connell's morning market, which with grand larceny for the theft of an automobile which they were attempting to demolish when surprised by a policeman. The boys, given names of Harry Rainford and John Everett, both 15 years old.

Patrolman Leo J. McCallister saw a machine secreted at Valencia and Lafayette streets. As he approached he noticed the two lads working frantically endeavoring to dismantle the car. They had removed the tires and were at work on other accessories. At sight of him they ran and he emptied his pistol over their heads.

They were finally captured. It was found the machine had been stolen last night from H. F. Haven-Kamp proprietor of a lighting fixture establishment at 1148 Market street.

Thief Secures $2000 While Woman Sleeps
According to a report made to the police, the home of Mrs. A. M. Wood, 1519 Franklin street, was entered Friday night and jewelry valued at approximately $2000 was stolen. Mrs. Wood says she placed her purse containing $50 in cash and jewelry under her pillow on retiring, and that the contents were missing on the following morning.

The room had apparently been entered through an unlocked window, and the thief had removed the purse from under the pillow. Taken the contents and replaced the purse with a few dollars in cash and jewelry. The jewelry taken was a single solitaire diamond ring valued at over $1000. Investigation of the case was assigned to Inspector William Engh and Harry Orbell.

IRELAND PEACE BETS DODGED BY LLOYDS, ENGLAND

Government Circles Fear Sinn Fein Will Win Majority Of Seats.

DUBLIN, April 4.—(By The Associated Press)—The opinion has been expressed by observers that the Irish situation has undergone a change for the better since March 17. A month ago Dublin drizzled the peace prophets, but today predictions that there will be a settlement are universal. Lloyd's declined to accept bets offered on the peace. It will be brought about before August 1.

Outwardly conditions have not improved. There has been no cessation of warfare, and the trouble is spreading to Ulster.

Factors serving to stimulate the optimistic view are the admission of Premier Lloyd George of the government's failure to solve the Irish problem, the surrender of a Catholic volunteer, De Valera's latest pronouncements which are interpreted as showing the willingness of the Sinn Fein for what is deemed a suitable compromise; England's internal troubles; repudiation of the partition act by Southern Ireland; the admitted duty offered the Ulster Parliament for the surrender of the arms of the Sinn Fein, and the rumor that Senator Kenyon is coming as President Harding's representative to investigate.

Government circles do not conceal their anxiety over the prospect that the Sinn Fein will win most of the seats in the Southern Parliament. With the Nationalists and Sinn Fein cooperating in the North, the task of establishing a stable government is recognized as fraught with political hazards.

It is confidently asserted that the Sinn Fein would be willing to negotiate peace on the basis of a status of full dominion.

Einstein, Theory Founder, Bewildered by New York

By W. B. SEABROOK
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, April 4.—Timid, bewildered, unable to speak a word of English, and homesick for his quiet
garden in Berlin, a great man with
the manners of a half-clumsy, sensitive boy, sits at a palatial suite at the Hotel Commodore.
He hopes his wife has brought
along the old green sweater, which is so much more comfortable than a frock coat.
And he would like to borrow a
fiddle.
This unassuming gentleman with
his modest wishes will probably go
down to posterity as the most gigan-
tic intellect of the twentieth century,
for his Albert Einstein, whose re-
lativity theory has profoundly affected the serious thought of the world
and altered the courses of the planets.

"Highbrow lunk," says Nellie, the telephone girl, when she is told that
this "foreigner" who doesn't know
enough to order ice water, is a greater man than Babe Ruth or Carnegie.
This unassuming gentleman with
his modest wishes will probably go
down to posterity as the most gigan-
tic intellect of the twentieth century,
for his Albert Einstein, whose re-
lativity theory has profoundly affect-
ed the serious thought of the world
and altered the courses of the plan-
ets.

WELCOMED ACCORDED
But for once the world and Nellie
are not in accord. Nine-hundred books
have been written about Einstein in less than twelve months in England
and more than fifty in America.
Professor Einstein and his wife arrived in New York today on the steamer Rotterdam with Dr. Chaim Weizmann and Mrs. Weizmann. They have come as leaders of the Zionist
movement to confer with American Jews on the best means of helping develop Palestine. Cheering thousands met the party at the Battery,
where they had been transported on Mayor Ryan's boat with an escort
of honor and their progress in automobiles to the hotel was a triumphal
procession with the Stars and Stripes
and the flag of Zion floating side by side.

Professor Einstein was surprised
and pleased and undoubtedly a bit
frightened.
"Grand America," he said, "and
New York, the country that shelters
my people."
There was nothing extraordinary
in the appearance of the man whose formulas have left the scientific
world breathless and somewhat frightened. He is a middle-aged man, with a friendly, somewhat
timid expression, either modified or causing to destruction.

SUMS UP THEORY
Albert Einstein is a middle-aged,
gentle mannered, medium height, a
little balding, with a high forehead,
shoulders and long arms and unusually movements. His face, with its glowing black eyes, is surmounted by a shock of hair that suggests
the poet or musician rather than the scientist. He speaks only German,
depending on his wife to answer all
questions for him and his conversation is without pretension.

He was manifestly embarrassed
when asked to talk about his theory.
He said he had worked on it for fifteen years and when requested to sum it up, he said, rather hopelessly: "Falling bodies are subjects independent of physical causes and light
in a vacuum travels only in a straight line."
But that isn't by any means all of the Einstein theory.
Less than two years ago he published a little book, made up principally of mathematical formulas.
It wasn't a good bet for the publishers, for Einstein himself admitted that there were probably only twelve living men who would be able to understand it. But it seems those twelve men, who were the greatest scientists, immediately got it and read it. And when they had finished tenth streets with an automobile
driven by Fred Chiosio of San Francisco, Schwartzwind was slightly bruised.

Chiosio and a woman companion were hurt when their automobile collided with another machine, both vehicles being thrown against a fire hydrant. Their injuries are not serious.

Atama was run down by an automobile as he stepped from behind
some freight cars in a switching yard
in San Jose.
Mr. and Mrs. Jones were injured
late yesterday when their vehicle approaching machine. The accident occurred on the highway between Clyde and Pittsburg. Mrs. Jones
was severely injured. Jones suffered only minor bruises. His daughter was in the automobile, but escaped unhurt.

Mrs. Annie Hainman was out about
the hands and face when an automobile with a power pole at Central avenue and Webster street. Alameda, yesterday afternoon.
The car was driven by Robert Hanson, 1247 Grove street, and in addition to Mrs. Hainman, contained C. K. Ford, 1012 Walnut street,
and his wife. According to Hampton
the machine skidded in making the turn, striking the pole.

House Robbed and Poison Put
in Cup of Milk For Victim, Is Charge.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 4.—Declaring
that she had discovered enough
bichloride of mercury in a cup of milk to kill a score of people, Miss Frances Browne, of 1190 Pine street,
today swore to a warrant against George S. Ross, an employee of a local automobile concern. According to Miss Browne, she spent yesterday morning swimming and returned to her apartment at 11 o'clock.
She told the police that she missed $1200 worth of jewelry which she had secreted on the premises.
"After I discovered that I had been robbed I made up my mind that I would prepare my lunch and then
notify the police," said Miss Browne.
She told the police that she had
a feeling and found that it was cold
and appeared peculiar. I immediately suspected that something
was wrong and had the contents
analyzed. It contained bichloride of mercury.
According to Miss Browne, Ross
had a key to her apartment. Detective Sergeant James O'Leary was sent for Ross, and is now searching for him.

This Is Better Than Laxatives

One NR Tablet Each Night For A Week
Will Correct Your Constipation and Make Constant Dosing Unnecessary. Try It.

Poor digestion and assimilation
mean a poorly nourished body and low vitality. Poor elimination means clogged bowels, fermentation, putri-
faction and the formation of poisonous
gases which are absorbed by the blood
and carried through the body.
The result is indigestion, flatulency,
dizziness, coated tongue, inactive liver,
bilious attacks, loss of energy, nervousness, poor appetite, impoverished
blood, sallow complexion, pimples, skin
disease, and often times serious illnesses.

Ordinary laxatives, purges and cathartics—sals, oils, calomel and the like—may relieve you for a few hours, but
real, lasting benefit can only come
through use of medicine that tones
up and strengthens the digestive as-
was the elimination organs.
Get a 210 box of Nature's Remedy
(NR Tablets) and take one tablet each night for a week. Relief will follow
the very first dose, but a few days
will elapse before you feel and realize the fullest benefit. When you get straightened out and feel just right
again you need not take medicine
every day—on the contrary, you will
then keep your system in good condition and you will always feel your best. Nature's Remedy is easier
and cheaper than getting well.
Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) are
sold everywhere and recommended by your druggist.

Madge's Unselfishness Really Troubled Lella.

When they turned their restless, an energy upon their baggage, course, had no opportunity to see Mrs. Durkee, but Lella, in a minute's breathless in delivering a message for prospective mother-in-law, said "Hello!"

You know Madge, she has asked her suit case seven times knowledge. And each time I most weep, because she can't do anything more. I'm pretty certain it will burst before it on the train."

Other Graham's record to date even, I think. I returned gaily, softly, with my eyes upon the of my mother-in-law's room each time she expressed her on of the government, which holds, directly responsible for traffic conditions that made it start to send the trunks on d of time. But I don't mind copies her mind and her time announced this morning that she didn't have a minute's time to me today, that I would have to on by myself, and because of decision I am going to be able take the train comfortably."

Lella laughed softly, then a sad look shadowed her lovely wish the baggage occupied all Mrs. Durkee's mind," she said uly. "Tell me, Madge, do you I did wrong in inviting Rita n to my wedding? I felt—and felt even more strongly than at there was no other possible—a bad mistake. All I haven't a word, although I'm afraid he like it, but his mother—"

Lella slipped an arm around her and her flower-like face up to mine upping my pain under her chin, not going to pretend that you a very wise or sensible little because of that invitation." I "But, my dear child, wisdom common sense are not the only s in this world. I can unde the feeling you have, know it is a matter of principle with to have her, and I feel that you perfectly right in the matter."

I were you—I wouldn't in that principle in making her guest at your home after marriage."

"Wouldn't ever have her," she said almost sternly, "but n feels—"

I stopped abruptly and looked e in frightened fashion. In a I had confirmed the suspicion "I had come to me before, that as Edith Fairfax who had felt, obligation to Rita Brown, Edith was the real cause for insisting the presence of the girl so to the rest of the wedding."

"There is one thing I can do e things smoother for you," I ighering her last sentence and ation, "and that is to invite Miss Edith Fairfax to my wedding. "Oh!" There was quick conste- on in her tone. "You mustn't do I'm afraid Mrs. Durkee hint—"

She hinted nothing," I retorted, d I certainly am going to do it. But you don't realize," she said, upe nervous and troubled, a not going to let me know, and—she is not always—pleasant companion. We are d to her, Edith and I, and it is better that she share our room," I said, "I don't want to know, I stand a little odd behavior, run along and stop worrying, take care of Rita Brown."

ut I little realized in what bi- e fashion my prophecy was to fulfilled.

icky rushed into my room for eleventh time, demanding the preabsorb of some maid article in the paper of which I read was posed to know nothing, as he a room all to himself, with nty of closet and bureau room. he has even more than the ordi- nary man's helplessness concerning clothing, and in a pronounced ree the masculine tendency to me the woman most nearly asso- ciated with him for whatever goes on."

Sellers of Tessie Joe

DEAR JOE—

Well, Joe, I see by the papers that the cost of living dropped 2 per cent last month. If it did, Joe, it must have happened because I failed to notice it. Still I didn't like to let the idea go to waste entirely, so I called up the landlord and asked if he'd heard about the sink in the cost of living, and he said yes he had, and I asked him if he was going to act accordingly, and he said yes he was, because with the cost of living starting to drop he figured his tenants could afford to pay him 15 per cent more rent. Believe me, Joe, the only reason I didn't give him a good snappy answer was because I'd hung up already when it occurred to me.

After that I didn't have the heart to mention the subject when I went around to Stutz's store to do my marketing, but I found it wasn't really necessary, because all the prices were marked up and

Mr. Stutz told me he had read about the cost of living ebding a little and he felt it was no more than his duty to get a little good of it himself. So if the cost of living keeps on dropping at that rate, Joe, it will drop us all into the poorhouse.

The baby had a birthday today, Joe. Or perhaps I really ought to say a half birthday, because he is really only six months old, so I made a half of a cake and cut a little candle in half and put it in the middle and let the baby stick his hands in the icing a few times because I couldn't think of any other way for him to enjoy it, seeing that he's still too young to eat cake on his own responsibility. Then later in the day Hilma, the Finnish maid, ate the majority of the cake and the baby got hold of the candle and ate it, and they both got sick, so I suppose after all it proves there's a proper time for everything and a half a birthday is worse than none. Lovingly, TESSIE.

All Have Their Dreams.

Lonely and lost in every time and place, A missing presence in the gloom and gleam, I'm ever dreaming of that patient face—

Sweetheart, all I have their dream! Some dream of delvers in earth's mines of gold, Some of a star, of far, illusive beam.

I, only of your dear, white hands to hold— Sweetheart, all have their dream!

From this sad life—so bitter with unrest— So weary with all trouble, with all strife, God lead you, in a dream, unto my breast, And kiss me into life!

Ef de stars wuz ter fall an' you could pick 'em up like gold dollars, some folks would have 'em all an' de rest of de world would be as poor as ever.

CRY Geraldine's SHOULDER

Here is a "California Girl," a school girl, and I'll bet she has large innocent eyes, curly hair and a guileless smile—but they should have had a chance to unloosen to throw harmless LOOKING hand grenades. I don't want to be the one to knock California after reading her letter. It's in answer to an AVALANCH "ROAST" on California from "Borax."

Dear Jerry: Cyanide is even too mild for a title for that sarcastic "stick" who calls himself "Borax." Yes, "stick," Jerry, because he can't be human.

He is one of those perfect models of progress who turns his face away from bathing beauties, refuses to think that people wear underwear, and frowns because school girls and boys are noisy on the street cars.

Did he ever witness a game when he went to school? If he did he must have been one of those sour grape individuals who wouldn't yell because it might be unseemly. He objects to being called names which sometimes dignifies real friendship. And all this Slam at California.

Forgive me, Jerry, but you are too mild with him. When an individual starts out on a tirade like that he needs a raking over the coals. I'm a native of the Golden State and I read that letter made my blood BOIL.

Wasn't that mortal ever happy? Didn't he ever smile? Doesn't he know that these girls were happy just babbling over with good spirits?

Californians are always ready to make the newcomer feel "at home." But Californians are also proud of their state, their people, and their accomplishments. California is the first state for education. California protects its children, widows, etc., and California is always among the first to answer Uncle Sam's call for help.

Every Easterner who comes here (except the Borax kind) falls in love with California and makes his home here. Listen, Jerry, because an incident like that of the gangsters happens only in California. It is this narrow-minded individual going to insult every California man and woman?

Californians: Rise up and answer that insult. Let us show Borax, and his kind, that we are mild, but that we are also ready to fight for California's fair name.

And a prize to the Borax: If Californians are so distasteful to you, we wish you Godspeed to return to the state from whence you came.

Now I feel, Jerry, And perhaps, if you were a schoolgirl, and went to some of our lovely games, you, too, would want to be noisy, especially when we win.

We don't want you hate anyone that called you vulgar; well, not hate them, but feel like telling them something in strong language.

Good luck to you, Jerry. And I hope little "Foreign Bride" followed your advice and formed some real friendships.

PEP L. SHERET, A California Schoolgirl.

Another Soaker

Comes now another soaker for people who are not EASTERN WOMAN, too. Borax was an Easterner and the love he or she bore to California wouldn't have felt a canary's bathtub.

This letter is not intended to further the burden that over-worked shoulder of yours, but simply to give you a pat on the back, for truly, defending the Californians in your answer to "Borax."

I am an Eastern woman, and have been in almost every state in the Union and it seems to me, that nothing but the most inexcusable ignorance would permit such a sweeping assertion as "Borax" makes.

It seems to know her type exactly, as I have had the pleasure of reminding a few of those Exclusive Easterners that the trains were still running, when they grew tired of the "Uncouth Californians."

I can also say that I married a native son of this fair land, and of the finer men on earth, and I know many more of the same kind, but from the statement that Borax makes, the type of man she attracts, must be of a very different caliber than as elsewhere—but such narrow-mindedness is positively disgusting.

I do so much admire your broad-mindedness, Jerry, that I would like to shake your little (?) hand some day.

N. H. J.

Still Another

And still another wallop! You'll have to admit, Borax, that even if you consider the Californians short on manners, they are certainly long on GINGER!

Dear Geraldine: Hush for you, Jerry! I wish I could shake your hand and thank you for the kind things you said of we Californians and the way you defended our manners in your letter to Borax. I agree with you, he should have chosen another name to suit that pretty disposition of his.

That puzzled me was that these folks who think Californians so ignorant and rude and so inferior to Eastern or people from most any other state, want to settle here and live among us. Why don't they go back where they came from, where people are refined and not just a rude, ignorant class?

Borax is liable to get lots of shocks yet in life and not from a Californian, either. A CALIFORNIAN.

Here is one solution to the gambling problem, and to the writer and all of you who give your help and advice. I give thanks.

What is the Country's Condition?

From comment by the Honorable David F. Houston:

This Second Survey of National Conditions, made by the Fidelity and Deposit Company, is suggestive, and will be helpful. At all times information of the sort here gathered is valuable. It is particularly so now, when there is still uncertainty in the business world, and leaders are debating the details of their industrial programmes and policies. It indicates that the business world is still feeling its way, but with increasing confidence, and with the conviction that the worst has passed.

The country has successfully borne the strain caused by a most notable drop in prices, particularly of a vast volume of raw materials, and has weathered a trying period of liquidation. The demand for finished products has not developed to the point where our factories feel justified in taking the requisite quantity of our surplus raw materials to furnish the necessary relief to their producers; but there are some indications of a change in this direction.

Business men realize that forced action, based on artificial optimism, may lead to unwise action, and produce further embarrassment.

The foreign situation has not shown the expected improvement, and continued difficulties are experienced in discovering an effective European market for our commodities.

This Survey does point to certain favorable domestic conditions. The cost of living has appreciably diminished. Building operations in a number of districts tend to increase. There have recently been no strikes of consequence. Greater productivity of labor per man is reported from all districts. Raw materials are plentiful, and physical transportation conditions are good. There have been no business failures of moment. The crop outlook is satisfactory; and the banking situation has improved. It is believed that confidence in business circles is slowly spreading, and that while there is hesitancy, the business men of the country are feeling their way with sound business caution, and the country is working back toward a more stable condition.

A PLAN FOR RELIEVING TAXATION DIFFICULTIES

Suggested by Daniel de Wolf Weaver of the New York Bar

- PREMISES: (1) The Government must continue to receive revenue on the present scale or higher. (2) The present tax system is widely condemned as hampering industry and progress. (3) Sale of a bond issue is probably impracticable. RELIEF SUGGESTED: Legislation providing for refunding to each taxpayer, in the form of U. S. Twenty-year four per cent bonds, to be liquidated for that purpose, one-half the amount paid as income, gift and excess profit taxes for the years 1920-1921 inclusive. RESULTS: (1) The Government would receive in full the full amount of the tax levied. (2) The taxpayer would in effect have his taxes cut in half, as the bonds received would constitute a 4 per cent loan. (3) The burden of war costs would be spread over a longer period.

Local Representatives will supply on request copies of the Survey Chart, and complete text of the analysis by the Honorable David F. Houston.

THE SECOND SURVEY OF NATIONAL CONDITIONS

The Fidelity and Deposit Company presents this second Survey of National Conditions in response to many requests. It is based on the answers to carefully considered questions, made by one thousand selected Representatives of the Company in all parts of the country. The Survey is a review by business men, prepared with every effort to insure accuracy, for the information of business men; and published as a contribution to the Nation's commercial well-being. The information, based on interviews with bankers, merchants, manufacturers and others in a position to speak authoritatively, was telegraphed to Baltimore and tabulated within the last five days.

The first Survey of National Conditions was published September 21, 1920, and aroused so much interest as to indicate that it was of value to the public at large, as well as to the Directors of the Company for whom the data was primarily intended. It was felt at this time that another review would be welcomed.

REFUSES TO GIVE NAMES OF THOSE AT LIQUOR PARTY

Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown, Society Matron, Testifies
in Divorce Suit.

Refusing to divulge the names of society people who attended a party at the Claremont Country club in 1915 when a "great many" were intoxicated, Mrs. Florence Sharon Brown today promised Attorney M. C. Chapman to furnish him a list privately of the names of the guests.

Mrs. Brown, who is a prominent Piedmont society matron, is suing Herbert Hamilton Brown, San Francisco insurance broker, for $800 a month alimony and an interlocutory decree of divorce on the grounds that Brown was drunk over a period of four years. She alleges that she was an "innocent party" to such conduct.

Attorney Chapman by cross-examination today attempted to show that Mrs. Brown not only failed to protest against her husband's drinking, but that she herself gave a big dinner and dancing party at the country club in 1915 and provided so much liquor that the majority of the 200 guests "got drunk."

Mrs. Brown admitted that she gave the party, but declares that she drank only a few glasses of punch.

Continuance Opposed In Power Surchage

A strenuous opposition to the continuance of the 15 per cent surcharge to consumers on the part of the Great Western Power Company which automatically expires April 10, was voiced during a hearing before the State Railroad Commission in San Francisco today by Assistant District Attorney Leon Gray of Oakland. Gray declared that he did not believe that the surcharge should remain in effect, that it was granted solely to provide for an increase in wages, which he stated he did not believe had been put into effect.

The testimony showed that the surcharge was granted in order that the company might meet wage increases of $125,000 on July 20, 1920 and that its estimated net revenue for 1921 would be $3,584,000. Attention was called to the fact, however, that extensive improvements were being made and that the company was engaged in a big development work, known as the Caribou project on the Feather River which, with a steel transmission line is to cost $16,475,000.

J. B. Black, general sales manager of the company, was on the witness stand during the greater part of the morning.

Dean of U. S. Motor Car Pathfinders Dies

SAN DIEGO, April 4.—Colonel A. L. Westgard, dean of the American motor car pathfinders, died here last night after an illness of several months. Colonel Westgard, who was field representative of the American Automobile Association and vice-president of the National Highway Association, had more than twenty transcontinental trips. Roads all over the country bear his name.

County to Regain $9000 Overcharged for Water

Alameda county has been overcharged about $9000 for water delivered to the county hospital and infirmary and the railroad commission has directed that the excess money be returned to the county, according to an announcement by one of the board of supervisors today.

It was at first thought the amount of water charged for was due to leaky pipes. Then the supervisors instructed the county surveyor to install separate meters to test the flow. This disclosed the improper charge. It was decided by one of the investigators that if the water had flowed all day through the pipes with the pressure of water the amount would not have been as great as was charged for.

ADJUSTMENT ACCEPTED

The county surveyor placed several meters along the county's pipe line between the point of delivery and the county infirmary. For a while these meters checked with the Union Water Company's meter, but it was at last ascertained that after a certain volume of water had flowed through the meter, due to a defect in the dial of the Union Water Company's meter, an amount would be registered in excess of the actual amount of water passing through the same.

"After the discovery was made the water company and the county agreed to the amount to be refunded to the county of Alameda, which amounts approximately to the sum of $9000 and covers a period of about two and one-half years. The water company has agreed to make the adjustment accordingly."

WORK FOR ALL

To aid in providing for the unemployed the Supervisors voted to expend in payment for work at the county hospital at San Leandro. The work was to have been done later but will be undertaken now because of the urgency of the situation.

Private citizens back of the movement, including R. N. Lee and others, will furnish funds for immediate payment of the wages and will be reimbursed by the county when the sum of $500 has been expended.

INVESTIGATION ORDERED

The county then endeavored to set its pipe line to the water company at public sale, but when bids were opened it was found that outside parties who desired to remove the pipe had placed a bid in excess of the water company's bid. The law required that the pipe should be sold to the highest bidder, and to have deprived the County infirmary of the water supply from the Union Water Company.

Cabaret Dance Ban to Stay, Police Chief Thompson Says

Public cabaret dancing will not be permitted to be resumed in Oakland and any attempt at the resumption of the banned steps will result in arrest of the proprietors and managers of the dance halls and if possible the participants, according to Police Chief Fenton G. Thompson.

The order follows the decision of Judge Lincoln S. Church in upholding the city ordinance which vests the authority in the chief of police to issue and refuse to issue dance permits.

All petitions again to introduce cabaret dancing will be refused, according to the chief. All applications will be passed on personally by him and will be denied, he stated.

The only permits now in effect are places where meals are served. Any future permits to be issued will have to prove the legitimacy of the enterprise. Each application will be considered as an individual case and no dancing will be permitted in places operated solely as drinking establishments.

SCHOOL BUILDING CALLED MENACE; REMOVAL ASKED

Parents of Bay District Urge That Old Structure Be Abandoned.

A plea that the City Council exert pressure on the Board of Education to force the abandonment of the Bay school was presented to the Council this morning by members of the Parent-Teachers' Association and the Bay District Improvement Club and finally referred to Commissioner Baccus, ex-officio member of the Board of Education, for a report by Thursday.

The protesters cited that the school has been condemned by the building inspector, and asked that it be abandoned as a menace to health and safety of its children. The Board of Education is planning to rebuild the old Bay school as a nucleus for the new structure.

Speakers spoke on behalf of the school, however, asserting that "the people do not think it right to permit the children of the Bay district to be imperiled," and that "some parents would rather take their children out of school."

Commissioner Baccus asserted that many complaints have been made to the Department of Public Health and Safety about this structure and that the building had caused inspectors to have recommended its closure at the earliest possible time.

"It appears that they are going to make a new building of it," said Morse, "but this appears very questionable."

Auto Driver Injured In Antioch Crash

Andrew Hines, 935 Appay street, is confined at his home today from injuries suffered yesterday near Antioch when the automobile he was driving met with a serious crash. The car, driven by a man and containing two women, both vehicles were damaged badly. Hines asserts he was driving on the right side of the road and was heading on with a touring car, when he was struck by a truck. The occupants of the other machine are said to have escaped without injury. Hines suffered cuts about the face and head from flying glass.

Poultryman's Body Sought For in Surf

Petaluma, April 4.—Efforts were continued today to recover the body of J. Ray Corliss of Petaluma, president of the Central California Poultrymen's Association, who was drowned in the ocean at Wright's Beach, 40 miles from here, while fishing Friday. Corliss was washed from a rock by the surf and disappeared, leaving his gun and companions, Percy and Arthur White, to save him.

Corliss was one of the best known poultrymen in the United States and a contributor to county farm magazines. He owned a large farm here.

Burglars Flee, Escape During Pistol Battle

Two Daring Thieves Surprised
in Robbing Store Exchange Shots With Officers.

In a running pistol battle between two burglars and three policemen last night, the burglars, who had entered the store of J. J. Kregg and company, Fruitvale avenue and 15th Street, escaped by dashing through the columns of P. C. Frederickson, across the railroad tracks through back alleys, and into the shadows of the Southern Pacific Fruitvale freight yard.

More than a dozen shots were fired by the officers, one of whom pierced the cap of Paulman S. B. Mantel, and knocked it to the ground. Investigation when the store was opened today disclosed that the burglars had pummed open a rear window to effect entrance to the clothing store, had rifled the store's cash register and secured more than $100 in cash. Clerk in the store were today checking over the store's stock to learn whether the men had secured any goods from the stock.

Paroling his beat at 12:20 a. m. today, Policeman H. Sherburne saw a man skulking about in the rear of the store. He went immediately to a police call box and summoned additional officers, returning quickly to keep guard over the place. In the shadows of a hallway, looking through a side window, he watched the two men at work while awaiting the arrival of reinforcements.

Patrolmen S. B. Mantel and C. T. Huxley responded to the call. Meeting Sherburne, the two went around the rear of the store by an alley, and came upon the men just as they were coming out of the rear door. They commanded the two burglars to halt, but instead the two intruders took to their heels and ran.

Emphasizing their command to stop with several pistol shots, the policemen gave chase, running down the alley and following the men across Derby street.

For a while the pathway of the chase was illumined with the flash of revolvers while the three policemen emptied their six-shooters in the direction of the burglars.

Without stopping, according to police report, the two men would occasionally swing their arms back and fire at the policemen as they stumbled on through the darkness.

After a chase of several blocks the men lost their pursuers in the shadows of the railroad freight yards and escaped.

RAISING CONTRACT-RENEWAL EFFORTS ARE SUCCESSFUL

Telegrams State Association Holds 92 Per Cent of Crop in California.

Telegrams in the hands of Oakland wholesale grocers and the Retail Grocers' Association today declared the success of the campaign for contract renewals of the California Associated Raisin Company which is the growers' mutual.

The campaign was suggested by W. M. Giffen of the association declared that the organization now holds legal control of 92 per cent of the California raisin crop. The control is established by the quantity of carry-over stock and that the future promised a steady market on which large purchases might safely be made and hand to mouth buying discontinued.

The whole crop carry-over in the hands of the association, Giffen telegraphed, was 32,000 tons of all kinds of grapes. This is about 25 per cent of the association's 1920 crop and it is still seven months until new crops can be moved to market, Giffen pointed out.

Prices of various grades of raisins have declined and the only quantity price decline now noted on the market here have been the result of slashing by jobbers on 11-ounce seeded raisin packages apparently with a view to reducing the movement in that pack to reduce stocks out of proportion to other grades.

The telegraphed statement from Fresno is the first definite statement of the amount of stock taken by the grocers as settling any doubt of the success of the association not only to hold its own but to advance its position. The new campaign, covering a 15-year term is taken as a surety as to permanency of present control.

BEET SUGAR STATEMENT

The financial condition of the company is thoroughly understood. The tangible assets, sugar on hand at present, market prices, cash in banks and bill receivables are greatly in excess of current liabilities. The working capital remains intact and there is still a balance remaining in the contingent surplus fund after providing for all other contingencies and paying during the year and reserving a substantial sum for improvements.

SOLEMN SERVICE
AT INSTALLATION
OF NEW RECTORRev. John Barrett Ushered
Into New Pulpit At St.
John's Church.

Rev. John Barrett, fourth rector of the Episcopal church at St. John's Episcopal church, Oakland, yesterday morning. The elaborate installation service, which was conducted by Rev. Edgar P. Gee, dean of the Oakland convention, at the request of Bishop Ford Nichols, was followed by the celebration of the Holy Eucharist.

The solemn procession led by crucifer, choir, servers and the clergy formed in the church and took places in front of the altar where the installation services were conducted.

Rev. Gee preached the sermon of the day. His sermon was based on the 30th chapter of St. John in which Christ gave the commission to His apostles. The speaker reviewed the parish life since the time of its inception over 60 years ago under Dr. Benjamin Akers, and brought its history up to date, tracing the various rectors who have had charge, including Dean Trew, Rev. Floyd Mynard, Rev. Martin N. Ray, Edgar P. Gee, Rev. Irving Spencer and the late rector, Rev. J. I. S. Foster.

He closed with a glowing tribute to the work that has been carried on by the parishioners during the last 15 years, characterizing it as "a labor carried on under trying circumstances to a glorious end."

The communion service which followed the installation was fully choral. At its conclusion the congregation, led by wardens and vestry, moved forward and greeted the new rector.

A large delegation of Rev. Barrett's parishioners from Vallejo was present at the service.

Fruitvale Avenue Being
Denuded of Stately Trees

The appeal of "Woodman, spare that tree," has had no effect on the minions of the street department who operate on Fruitvale avenue. Whole rows of tall, beautiful trees, more than forty years old, have been cut down on Fruitvale avenue and are now merely rot wood.

For several years the Fruitvale avenue residents have appealed for improvements along the street. Finally the appeal was heard. It was answered thoroughly. Everything was improved, including curbs, gutters, sewers and pavement. At that, Fruitvale avenue found its trees missing and sent in appeals the other way.

"The trees must go," says Commissioner Edwards. "One tiny hair root in a sewer is enough to start the sewer toward ultimate decay, and those beautiful trees seemed to have unlimited roots. They seep into the roots and as the trees grow the roots enlarge until the sewers are either clogged or disrupted. Now the trees are being removed, the avenue, let the improvements stay."

Fruitvale avenue is still battling for its trees, but today it was admitted that it is an uphill fight without much chance for victory. Some of the trees have been landmarks since Fruitvale avenue first existed.

The fire department this morning saved from total loss the three-story wooden structure occupied by the Jewell Case Manufacturing company at Twelfth and Filbert street. The building is one of the landmarks of the west side, having formerly been Miss Horton's School for Girls. A high wind caught the roof for a short time seeming to imperil not only the building itself but adjoining structures. Three women employed by the company escaped injury. They were Mrs. R. C. Matthews, 1523 Chestnut street; Mrs. A.

Curcio, 4112 Penniman avenue, and Miss Anne Constance, 1304 Filbert street. The damage is estimated by Chief Whitehead at approximately $1000.

The fire department confined the flames to the room. The fire is believed to have been started from flying sparks fanned by the wind.

The Jewell Case Manufacturing company is an auxiliary of the Western Paper Box Company. It resumed work full handed this morning.

Chief Thompson Goes To Study L. A. Rules

Police Chief Fenton C. Thompson left this morning for Los Angeles, where he will make a study of the methods of that city for handling traffic.

Before leaving, the chief declared that the stationing of electric police men to handle street traffic, the establishment of permanent patrol zones in the congested downtown section and further changes in the present traffic laws are under consideration. Thompson was accompanied by Sergeant J. Harry Neiderman, who is in charge of the Oakland traffic bureau.

Acting Captain of Inspectors Timothy Flynn will act as chief of police during Thompson's absence.

SEIZURES IN ASIA
MINOR DEFENDED
BY GREEK CONSUL

Turks Have Made Life Intolerable To Subject Races, Says Panagopoulos.

Turkey not only has proved itself incapable of giving the various races it has subject, particularly the Greeks, an opportunity to live a "tolerable life" but has endeavored to exterminate the Greeks, according to a statement which has been issued by C. A. Panagopoulos, Consul of Greece, in San Francisco, in defense of his nation's occupancy of Thrace and a portion of Asia Minor.

Panagopoulos explains that the issuance of the statement was prompted by two lectures on Turkey recently given at the University of California and the Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco. The statement says in part:

"Without resorting very far back to persecutions against the Greeks, I shall cite that in 1914, before the World War, more than 200,000 Greeks, both from Thrace and Asia Minor, have been expelled from Turkey, and their property looted and confiscated. During the World War Greeks have perished by massacres, deportations and military service in the Turkish army by hundreds of thousands.

DEPORTATIONS CITED

"Voluntary deportations of the Greek population took place under the pretext of military necessity, although the real purpose was their extermination and the seizure of their property, amounting to many millions of dollars. This very purpose has been cynically acknowledged by the official Turkish authorities to the representatives of the Greek government.

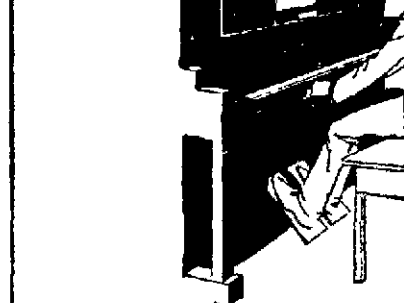

"Since the foundation of the new Greek state it has always been the policy of all Greek governments to free our brothers still remaining under the barbarous Turkish rule in continuation of its policy we have the Balkan wars of 1912-1913. Consequently this policy, and not an imperialistic one, has been followed by Mr. Venizelos during the World War (when Turkey fought with the allies). This policy is not the cause of Mr. Venizelos' fall. The very same policy is followed today by the actual Greek Premier, Mr. Calogieropoulos.

"Through the armistice Turkey laid her fate in the hands of the allies, who embodied their decisions regarding Turkey in the treaty of Sevres. By virtue of that treaty, Thrace and a portion of Asia Minor, whose population is Greek, have been allotted to Greece. So we are not fighting a war of conquest, we are only fighting for the rights derived from the treaty of Sevres, which the Turks refuse to recognize. Let us not forget that it is an axiom in modern international diplomacy that the Christian races once liberated from the Turk never go back under his yoke."

Fruitvale Pioneer Mason and County Supervisor Is Dead

Wm. B. Bridge Passed Away
At 59; Funeral Held Tomorrow.

William B. Bridge, Fruitvale pioneer, former county supervisor and a prominent Eastbay Mason, died early yesterday at his home, 2428 Thirty-fifth avenue, following an illness of seven weeks.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 p. m. from the Fruitvale Masonic Temple, East Fourteenth street and Thirty-fourth avenue, under the auspices of Fruitvale Lodge No. 338, P. & A. M., of which Bridge was long a member.

He was 59 years of age. Besides his widow, Mrs. Rosina Bridge, he is survived by four daughters—Mrs. May Burgund, Mrs. Ruby Demer, Pearl Bridge and Ruth Bridge. A native of England, he came to America more than forty years ago a mere boy, traveling alone.

Bridge served for several terms as a trustee of the old Fruitvale school district in the days before the annexation of that territory to Oakland under the Mott administration in 1905.

As a young man he worked on his father's ranch, one of the oldest in Fruitvale, and later managed a dairy business of his own.

Later he became county road overseer for Supervisor J. C. Fulcott in the Second district. When in 1906 Supervisor Talcott decided to retire from public life, Bridge ran against Charles W. Hoyer of Hayward for supervisor of the Second district and was elected.

Again in 1910 he was elected to the Second district representation when his place was contested by E. F. Morse, now commissioner of public health and safety for Oakland.

He thus served for two terms as county supervisor, for at the election in 1914 Charles Hoyer of Hayward defeated Bridge and again against Hoyer in 1918, but Hoyer was re-elected.

Since his retirement from the board of supervisors Bridge has engaged in contracting business for a time with a Fruitvale group associated under the name of the Western Construction Company, but later in his own name.

He was for many years a member of the Fruitvale Lodge of Masons. Bridges' death was officially recognized by the supervisors today in the adoption of the following resolution, introduced by Supervisor C. W. Hoyer, Bridges' opponent in the last campaign, and seconded by D. J. Murphy:

"Whereas, it has pleased the Almighty Providence to call from our midst W. B. Bridge, a distinguished citizen of this county, who for many years faithfully served the people of this county;

Libel Suit Aftermath of Wife Murder Trial

CARDIFF, April 4.—The courts here have been asked to decide the novel question whether a waxwork showman is guilty of libel for placing in his exhibition a model of a man acquitted on a charge of wife-murder.

The libel action developed in an aftermath of a sensational trial in which Harold Greenwood, a solicitor, was the central figure. His likeness, shortly after the trial ended, appeared in a Cardiff exhibition. It occupies a prominent place among similar figures of Lloyd George and other notables of the day, but is labeled simply, "Mr. Harold Greenwood."

Something new to put him in that frame of mind. Roth is a track-layer.

SCHOOL TEACHERS ARE REMINDED OF
BAN ON POLITICS

The standing rule of the Oakland school department that educators as a body must keep clear of politics was called to the attention of the Oakland teaching body today by Superintendent of Schools Fred M. Hunter.

Hunter's communication follows: All principals in the Oakland schools are responsible for calling to the attention of the teachers the necessity of the school force being carefully refraining from any participation in all political campaigns.

The public schools are devoted to the service of the people, and we as members of the public school force are in the largest sense public servants. We cannot, therefore, consistently participate in our official capacities in any degree whatsoever in any political campaign, nor can we permit anything to take place in the schools or the classrooms that savors in any degree of partisan politics, nor permit suspicion to be cast upon us as doing so.

This caution in no sense restricts any teacher in exercising his functions as an American citizen. It simply calls to your attention that the public schools cannot be used in any way for partisan political purposes of any kind, no matter what the personal views of the individual members of the school force may be. It is the duty of every teacher as a citizen to be an interested active participant in public and civic affairs, and to acquaint himself with issues and the qualifications of candidates and to vote intelligently for the best interests of the city, and especially of the children of the city. Principals will see that this notice is brought immediately to the attention of all teachers.

WILLIAM B. BRIDGE, former supervisor and pioneer of Fruitvale, whose funeral will be conducted by Masonic lodge tomorrow afternoon.

as a member of its board of supervisors, and, therefore, he is "Resolved, that this board of supervisors does hereby extend to the family of Mr. Bridge its sympathy in their bereavement, and be it further adjourned, that this board when it adjourns, does so in respect to the memory of W. B. Bridge."

The Ice Cream Fight—No. 10
Ice Trust Backs
Ice Cream Trust

Some idea of the magnitude of the battle for commercial supremacy in the local ice cream field, may be gained with it being known that the Miller Creamery Company is not only threatened with extinction by the Ice Cream Trust—controlling the ice cream business of Northern California—but back of the Ice Cream Trust stands the Ice Trust with its millions and business ramifications extending clear across the continent to the shipyards of the Atlantic seaboard.

According to the statement made to the Miller Creamery Company the Ice Trust is willing to lose $3,000,000 to put the Miller Creamery Company out of business "so it will not have to pay so large an income tax next year."

While we do not minimize the danger in the present war of extermination, we know that such a statement is more fanciful than real. No group of business men are going to throw away any such sum of money as this simply to force out one independent ice cream manufacturer in order to boost the wholesale price in his territory to the level prevailing in the districts where the trust has absolute control.

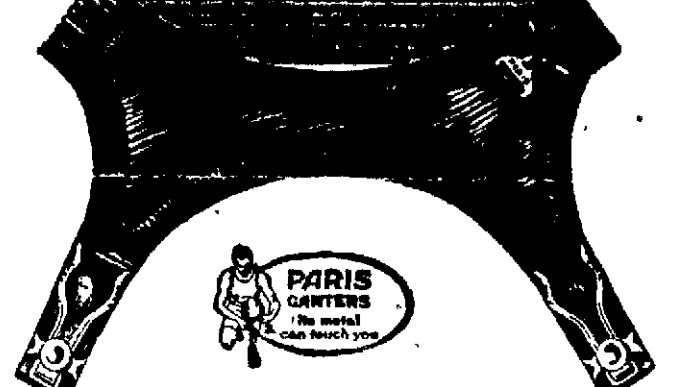

Men possessing such poor judgment as to do such a thing would never have achieved the business prominence and financial strength as has been achieved by those in control of the Ice Trust.

These men, however, are willing to spend a considerable sum in throttling competition, as we have already learned, but up to the present time they have accomplished nothing but entered a large amount of money on the debit side of the ledger.
